

College of Criminology and Criminal Justice

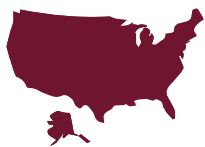

Bringing Research to Life.

The Florida State University College of Criminology and Criminal Justice sets the standard for education and scientific study of crime and criminal justice. By combining policy-defining research, collaborative study and leadership opportunities, our graduates are ensured to develop the critical and independent thinking skills needed to effectively improve our criminal justice community as a whole.

With the college's forward-thinking, research-driven educational community, our academic programs consistently rank among the nation's best. Led by expert faculty—who rank No. 1 in research productivity according to the Journal of Criminal Justice Education—students are empowered to explore their interests, express ideas and experience the pride of uncovering new knowledge.

YOUR SUPPORT PROVIDES

- ◆ Student scholarships
- ◆ Recruiting and retaining top faculty and students
- ◆ Graduate research opportunities

The college's graduate program ranked No. 1 in the nation in 2020 according to Intelligent.com and No. 5 in U.S. News & World Report's "Best Graduate Schools," 2021

The online graduate program ranks No. 8 nationally, No. 6 among public universities and No. 5 for veteran education according to U.S. News & World Report's "Best Online Programs" 2021

Home to the oldest criminology doctorate program in the nation